

Meet Relocation's new CEO

We are proud to announce that Relocation will be entering 2012 with a new CEO. Her name is Grete Christoffersen, a name some of you already may be familiar with.

However, and first of all, a proper farewell with Grete's predecessor is in place. Susanne Reienes is leaving after 10 years with us as a CEO. She has chosen to turn down the pace of life, and is now looking forward to a sabbatical with her family. We thank Susanne for the great work she has laid down for us, and wish her all the best for the future.

Luckily for us, it is a well known Relocation-face who is about to take over. Grete has been director of our board the last two years, and therefore has a thorough knowledge of our line of business, our employees and not least our customers. Before joining us as CEO, Grete had her own consultancy business, focusing on organization development. Prior to this she was a personnel manager for one of our larger customers in the oil industry for 12 years, in both Norway and France.

Originally holding a Master in Human Resources from ESSEC, France, Grete is also a trained family therapist specializing in organizational constellations.

We wish Grete welcome onboard, and look forward to embracing future possibilities and challenges together with her.
